I cannot find this docket item on your site, at least not yet.

I would not blame you for trying to hide it, from what I hear of it.

I am opposed to any phony anti-environmental anti-people anti-living things stupidity that would enable injecting pesticides into water bodies without strong, very strong controls.

If bushite political contributors want to save a few dollars at the expense of killing and poisoning us, that would seem to be quintessential evil. I am not surprised, but I am very opposed.
